OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union for ever—Morris.

Full Speed Ahead

FROM THE OUTSET the really alarming aspect of Russia's success in launching a satellite has been what this seemed to signify regarding Soviet progress in long range missiles. But a great deal of confusion now surrounds that whole matter. To begin with, many people, including some who should know better, are referring to both intermediate and long range missiles as "intercontinental." The intermediate, with a range from 700 to perhaps 2,000 miles, is not properly classed as intercontinental. Only the long range, with a maximum distance up to 5,000 miles, belongs in that category. The Russians claim, of course, that they have fired a true intercontinental missile into a target area. We were skeptical of this at the time, and despite the successful dispatch of "Sputnik" by rocket propulsion, some of our scientists still are doubtful.

THEY KNOW THAT the Russians needed a very powerful missile to catapult "Sputnik" 560 miles into the sky. For it weighs 184 pounds and the satellite we are building weighs a mere 21. Nevertheless, the ability to lift a missile high into space is not the whole story. As the eminent scientist, Dr. Vannevar Bush, notes, there are two other major problems: getting the missile back into the earth's atmosphere without burning it to a crisp, and putting it on the target. We have only the Russians' word that they have solved these difficulties. "Sputnik" does not prove it. As we all know, parts of the three-stage rocket which launched the satellite are still traveling in outer space along the satellite's orbit.

ADMITTEDLY, a good many leaders and millions of ordinary folk everywhere are more disposed than before to believe what the Soviet Union claims. That is the fruit of the Kremlin's great propaganda victory in launching a satellite ahead of us. And, naturally in the light of recent events, we do not dare sit snugly by and content ourselves with the possibility the Russians have not solved all the problems of the long range missile—even though Bush and others think they have not. The only safe course for the United States at this moment is to plunge ahead at full speed and with full resources to win the missile race, if that is still possible, or to catch up if we now trail. No American needs to be told any longer what is at stake.

Mental Diagnosis

THE AMERICAN Academy of General Practice has announced that general physicians have joined the fight against mental illness. This makes a lot of sense. Very often it is the family doctor who has the first inkling of serious mental or emotional disturbance. These may show up, in the first place, as persistent headaches or ungrounded complaints of one kind or another. Or such disturbance may appear as a belief in a diseased condition where, as a matter of diagnostic fact, there is no disease. Family doctors are in an ideal strategic position to catch mental and nervous troubles at their outset. They are familiar, in many instances, with families as whole groups. They know the family environment and background. A determination on their part to help combat mental illness is greatly to be desired. We are living in a tense and troubled time. Our mental hospitals are over-crowded, and new ones can't be built fast enough. If the old family doctor can cut down on this tragic toll he will have proved once again that he is indeed the best friend most families have.

Dandy For Halloween

ALMOST EVERY one has been mighty solemn about Sputnik. This is not only understandable, it is commendable. And we yield to no man when it comes to seeing far-reaching implications. Still, nothing makes Sputnik could be entirely serious. There has to be some comic relief. Sure enough, this has now been provided by a garage door in Schenectady, N. Y. It is one of those radio-activated doors, and as near as the owners can figure out it flies open whenever Sputnik soars by a few hundred miles overhead. Who knows whether Sputnik actually is responsible? If it is, the Russians have gotten hold of the best Halloween mischief-maker since the invention of soap.

Science Could Ruin World Civilization

WASHINGTON—Once again we are reminded by recent developments in the field of rockets and missiles and by the Russian satellite how new advances in science, harnessed with the atomic power of destruction, could destroy our civilization.

Out of that comes the big dilemma of our times: Control of these new forces is in the hands of a very few people at the top of a very few nations. That means that the fate of all of us is in the power of so few.

This is so because the danger of these new forces makes secrecy imperative, giving to the few who are privileged to know these secrets a monopoly on decisions about their use.

THIS dilemma has long been familiar—in fact, so familiar that we are often inclined to overlook it. It can be refreshed and newly dramatized when observed in a different locale, such as Europe, and in a time of crisis such as grips the world again, as was the privilege of this reporter on a vacation trip just concluded.

In the space of a few days the headlines of newspapers in Europe recorded the series of events beginning with Russia's launching of earth satellite and including the dispatch of troops by Egypt to Syria, charges by Russia that Turkey had aggressive designs on Syria, and the Khrushchev letter to labor leaders in Britain and elsewhere accusing their governments of aggressive designs in the Middle East.

THIS CHAIN of events demonstrated that a handful of rulers in Russia were exploiting their earth satellite success to create a "crisis" in the always sensitive and always susceptible Middle East. That, in turn, provoked the ruling few in the Western Federation of free nations.

They reacted to produce more headlines and such concrete actions as the conferences here this week between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain.

So once more the world was atremble, and it all happened in just a few days.

It was all a game among the few at the top who hold our destiny in their hands—a game and a reckless gamble.

THIS crisis was recorded in the newspapers with the usual big headlines, and the people read about it as of something far away over which they had no control.

In the big cities and the smaller cities and towns visited on this vacation in Spain, Italy, Greece and England, the people were busy at their pursuits, as they are here in our country. They were occupied with worries like ours—inflation and the rising cost of living—and by the vague fears stirred up by the headlines about the game being played by their rulers.

The feeling of futility among the people must be expressed often in Europe as it is here, and as it was by a young woman in Athens to whom we delivered a gift from a friend here, Neill Shute's "On The Beach," with the title comment that it might help if everybody could read this story about the atomic destruction of the earth in the world's last war.

"How can it help if just the people read it?" she asked. "They can't do anything. It is the political leaders who decide what happens to all of us and who cause all the trouble. I doubt if they would read it."

PEOPLE, as people, are not mad at anybody to the point of wanting to go to war. They are tired of fighting and wanton destruction. The people are, for the most part, friendly and helpful to strangers in their midst, and not only Americans but Europeans from other countries.

For instance, in and about Constitution Square in Athens, where hotels and restaurants cater to Americans now, you hear almost as much English spoken as Greek, and Americans learn to identify themselves as Americans, for the British are hot in good favor now because of Cyprus.

IN ATHENS, the ruins of that once-glorious ancient civilization that gave us our Western culture and democracy are always before you in the Acropolis that dominates the city.

Watching the antics of the rulers of our modern civilization, you come to the conclusion that we have no guarantee that we won't destroy ourselves with a final big boom, and with nobody wanting anything of the kind, and certainly not the people.

It is a sinister thing, indeed, when advances in science are now first assessed, fearfully, for their power to destroy and no longer happily hailed for the blessings they might bestow.

We can conquer and harness the forces of nature, but we haven't yet learned to live together as nations, though all of us could live together peacefully as people.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — This reporter's encounters with TV fall roughly into three sporadic classes: occasional appearance on same, at fees even coolies would not work for; occasional appearance on same, at no fee at all; taking black coffee and forgotten eyebrow pencils to my bride when she soils for the medium. This cannot be described as a gamut.

But among the hale fellows with whom I sedately walk the town at night is George Sololaire, a bravo known as Gentleman George and just about the kindest and most compassionate man I ever met anywhere.

Mr. Sololaire's dodge is to try to help stricken lovers of drama locate tickets for the juicier items and this Samaritan job has twice now almost cost him his life.

The pressures on him are enormous. Citizens shilly-dallying seals for "My Fair Lady" never apparently care that a heart attack can fall, if not destroy, a man. And I am not jesting about them almost costing him his life — twice.

IN ANY CASE, George and I were walking the ramparts the other night, expecting either the ghost of Hamlet's father or maybe Banquo's, or both of them in arm. George idly mentioned that his son, Robert Spencer Sololaire, had written a book, duly published complete with dust-cover and copyright (and, one trusts, royalties), and that this book was called "How To Get Into Television."

"I don't think it is exactly your cup of tea," said George, "because you have little traffic with the electronic eye and everybody you know probably can find his or her way into TV without a seeing-eye book for a guide."

Well, personally, it isn't my cup. I am not battering at the fat doors of TV or shredding my cuffs in unhappy frustration. But I like George and I like Bob and I can testify that in 9,000 miles of travel in and out of the U. S. this summer and the summer before that for the same mileage, my memory was that for every mile covered some stranger would pluck at my sleeve and say: "You from New York? How's a man get into TV — in the money levels?"

YOUNG Sololaire's book is, therefore, a fast, reliable, detailed and honest answer, all available for $3.75 at your book dealer's. Sheridan House publishes it. It covers the entire TV field:

Frederick Othman

Big Money; Uncle Gets It

WASHINGTON—Let us not exactly pity some poor little rich boys in steel gray suits today. They're not starving to death, you understand, but their fabulous salaries turn out to be nothing much but medals to pin—temporarily—on their chests.

Uncle Sam gets nearly all they earn in income taxes. I hasten to add that the top officials of the Bethlehem Steel Company aren't complaining about this; they simply had to bare their fiscal souls at behest of Senator Estes Kefauver and Company.

THE SENATORS were supposed to be investigating steel prices, but the Keef started the proceedings by remarking that of the 18 highest paid men in America, 11 worked for Bethlehem.

Arthur B. Homer, the president, who earned $68,176 last year, stared at the Senator through his rimless eyeglasses. So did his four helpers, mostly vice presidents earning several hundred thousand dollars a year, too.

All these gents were clad in gray, except one. This holdout was wearing deep brown, and I got the idea that whatever they earned, they were worth it. By day they labored for Bethlehem and by night they thought about it. They were part of the 13-man "inside" board of directors, meaning that they had no other work except steelmaking. This is what seemed to pain Senator Kefauver. He said they could set their own wages.

THE RUDDY-faced Homer said this wasn't true. Whatever the directors did in the way of paying themselves handsomely, the stockholders had to approve. And, anyhow, said he, this incentive pay for Bethlehem executives has been going on now for more than 20 years, while the stockholders have remained happy. Well they should be.

Homer said that one share of stock bought for $30 in 1936 is worth $500 today, counting stock splits.

Senator Everett M. Dirksen said he wouldn't know about the advisability of paying high salaries, but he did know that the men who got them had to hand nearly all to the tax collectors. He estimated that President Homer, for instance, had to pay better than 80 per cent of his wages to the government.

THE HIGHEST paid Bethlehem man, Eugene Grace, the 61-year-old chairman, got $89,011 last year, but he wasn't present. Homer reported that the boss was feeling ill. Also absent was the low man on Bethlehem's totem pole, Vice-President Jesse advertising, management, writing and acting. It uncovers with simple candor many job possibilities the average newcomer would not even think of, and leads you to these doors.

In addition, Sololaire has added such bonus information as what the hiring policies of the large networks cover, what an agency believes is the success quotient of a play, how enormous a part "charm" plays in a woman's career and a play-by-play run-down on how to maintain your TV career even while wearing khaki instead of grey flannel.

THE AUTHOR is not content with dealing "up-top." He explains how such byroad matters as closed circuit TV, research, program development, religious, farm and Armed Forces TV and even ratings services can lead not only to a niche on a payroll but eventually to network importance. Many a little fellow hustling his hair away in a remote spot has, by knowing the tributary roads, found himself a vice president of one or another of the big networks.

Mr. Sololaire is not attempting here to write the Great American Novel or a wicker basket filled with doctored prose. He goes directly to the point of writing an informative, amazingly accurate and detailed guidebook to all the panning and hopefully talented men and women who desperately hope for a break in television.

GEORGE knows this much about me as a reporter: If I thought his boy had zinged one off without half-trying or by padding the information I'd leave it as distinctly alone as I would a tarantula. It's not my job to rub the backs of my friends' children. But his son hasn't played hooky on any page.

It is straight matter, written straight. No horsing, no hoologism. He takes his assignment seriously and obviously wants his book to be of help in leading worthwhile people to a worthwhile job.

Finally, there is a recitation of defined case histories: how some people did it, what they had to start with, how they tried the door open and where they have landed.

It is no effort, or county fair rumpus of conscience, to say that "How To Get Into Television" is no phony. It isn't. It tells the facts and you can use them.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Every happy fat man has a major problem in life—how to put up with the envy of his dieting friends. They begrudge him each mouth-watering calorie he consumes; each pound by which he outweighs them they take as a personal insult.

If a fat man were to take seriously all the jibes thrown at him, he would quickly worry himself to a skeleton.

The fat man has been the target of medical concern since Hippocrates, the father of medicine, observed 400 years before Christ: "Fat men are more likely to die suddenly than the slender."

But throughout all history the fat man also has been the butt of slanderous attacks that are based, not so much on concern for his welfare, as upon envy of his well-being.

IT IS TRUE that Shakespeare did point out some of the virtues of the portly when he quoted Julius Caesar as saying, "Let me have men about me that are fat, sleek-headed men, and such as sleep o' nights." But Shakespeare dealt from the bottom of the deck, too.

He had Hamlet say, "Oh, that this too solid flesh would melt, thaw and resolve itself into a dew!" And in "Love's Labor Lost," he wrote: "Fat paunches have lean pates, and dainty bits make rich the ribs, but bankrupt quite the wits."

Here are a few other famous and unfair attacks on the fat man:

"The fatter the sow, the more she desires the mire"—John Bunyan.

A fat man has a thin soul—Welsh proverb.

Nobody loves a fat man—American proverb.

A fat man is no good in war; he can neither fight nor run away—another American proverb.

Has the fat man no answer to the barrage of insults he meets except a cheerful smile? Yes, happily, he has literary friends.

WASHINGTON, Irving, who threw a wide shadow himself, pointed out that the fat man is of an essentially peaceful nature. "Who ever hears," he asked, "of fat men heading a riot, or herding together in turbulent mobs?"

The fat man can console himself with the fact that, unlike the skinny man, he is no hypocrite. As Bernard Shaw pointed out, "There is no love sincerer than the love of food."

Heaven's gift is held out as a hope to the fat. In 1609 William Lithgow wrote: "He that eateth well drinketh well, he that drinketh well sleepeth well, he that sleepeth well sinneth not, and he that sinneth not goeth straight through purgatory to paradise."

And where does that leave for skinny people to go? There is an old Italian proverb that aptly describes the fate of dieters who make a religion out of counting their calories. This is it:

"Who fasts but does no other good saves his bread but goes to hell."

WASHINGTON—If the presence in their midst of Queen Elizabeth the Second and Prince Philip the One is as unsettling to the British as it has been to us, I do not wonder that our overseas cousins do odd things, such as plunging asparagus stalks down their throats as if they were sword-swallowing. The mere fact of being in the same neighborhood as the regal couple seems to produce irrationality.

Moreover, the visit of Britannia's monarch and her consort has saddled us with a new aristocracy, at least temporarily. This aristocracy is stratified, like limestone.

It climbs in layers. Those who saw the couple in the flesh are a layer above those who only saw them on television; those who shook hands with them are a stratum above those who only saw them; while those whom Prince Philip stared at with a puzzled look and asked, "Haven't I seen you before?" are the upper crust, with whipped cream on top.

HE HAD HEAVED his query at upwards of 500 at the British Embassy reception, when R. Peter Straus, Washington representative of the International Labor Organization, came abreast of him. The Prince gave him the head twist, the windup, and the throw, saying: "Hello, what are you doing these days?"

Straus, who has never even made Philip's cricket team, he batting a sticky wicket, was flustered, but managed to stammer: "I'm still with the I.L.O."

"Of course," said Philip as if this information was superfluous, "but the I.L.O. in Washington or Geneva?"

"In Washington," hummered Straus.

"Yes," said the Prince, "but you're still working for Dave Morse?"

Straus virtually tottered out of the receiving line, wondering how the royal consort had got to be so palmy with David Morse, president of the International Labor Organization.

THE CHANCE TO shake hands with royalty also unsettled the inner coterie of the White House. President Eisenhower's three special assistants, Jack Anderson, Jack Martin, and Bryce Harlow, received purchasable invitations to the Embassy reception. Anderson and Martin went ahead in one White House limousine, with their wives, leaving Harlow to follow later.

As they were approaching the Embassy, Mrs. Martin said to her distinguished spouse: "I hope you didn't do anything silly, like leaving the invitation on your desk?"

"Ha!" responded Martin, superciliously. He said "Ha!" again, and plunged his hand into his inside coat pocket. He said it again, somewhat weaker, and he searched his outer right hand coat pocket, then weaker still as he searched the left hand pocket. He was still murmuring feeblely "ha's!" as he emptied his pants pockets.

"Do you know what?" he finally said, with forced airiness. "I left it on my desk."

FORTUNATELY, the White House limousines are equipped with telephones. Martin phoned Harlow, catching him just as his car was pulling away from the White House. But by the time Harlow got the invitation to Martin, the latter's domestic relations were at the lowest ebb since the time he had worked all night without phoning home.

Moreover by the time the Martins got through the receiving line, the bar had closed and nothing was left on the tables except some chocolate eclairs, which Mrs. Martin wouldn't let her husband touch because she was afraid he'd have to ask one of the royal needswomen to let out his strippers.

Orthopedic Surgeon In Office Here

Dr. Robert Feddis, who recently opened his practice in orthopedic surgery at 39 Greene Street, has been accepted into the Allegheny-Garrett Medical Society.

Dr. Feddis was born in Dublin, Ireland, and was graduated in 1949 from the Medical School of University College, Dublin, a constituent college of the National University of Ireland.

After he graduated, Dr. Feddis served as a house supervisor in the Mater Misericordiae Hospital, Dublin, until he came to this country in March 1950.

Dr. Feddis interned at Holy Name Hospital in Teaneck, N. J., for 15 months and later was a resident doctor in surgery at Finken Memorial Hospital, Neptune, N. J.

He began his specialty training in orthopedic surgery in Bellevue Hospital in New York City in 1952, and a year later joined the U. S. Army and served as a captain in the Medical Corps in Germany and Italy for over two years.

Following his release from the service, Dr. Feddis resumed his training in orthopedic surgery at New York University - Bellevue Medical Center in January 1956 and completed his studies there in June of this year.

Dr. Feddis opened his practice on Greene Street in September, specializing in orthopedic surgery.

Dr. and Mrs. Feddis and their year-old daughter reside at 509 Prince George Street.

Train, Bus Schedules To Be Changed

Nation Reverts Back To Eastern Standard Time

Trains and buses will revise their schedules on Sunday as the East returns to Eastern Standard Time.

The Cumberland Bus Terminal Inc. announces the only change in the Greyhound schedule will be a bus leaving here for Baltimore and Washington.

The bus, which has been leaving at 2 p. m., will depart from Cumberland for those two eastern cities at 1:45 p. m.

A spokesman for the B&O railroad gave the schedule of passenger trains when standard time replaces daylight saving time Sunday morning.

The following schedule is effective 12:10 a. m. Sunday, October 27:

EASTBOUND
Train No.	Arrive	Leave
10	2:45 a. m.	2:50 a. m.
18	4:20 a. m.	4:28 a. m.
20-26	5:21 a. m.	5:26 a. m.
6	5:36 a. m.	5:41 a. m.
8	1:10 p. m.	1:15 p. m.
22	3:06 p. m.	3:03 p. m.
12	7:45 p. m.	7:50 p. m.

WESTBOUND
Train No.	Arrive	Leave
7	2:32 a. m.	2:37 a. m.
17	1:18 a. m.	1:33 a. m.
11	11:42 a. m.	11:52 a. m.
21	1:12 p. m.	1:15 p. m.
9	5:05 p. m.	5:15 p. m.
5	8:20 p. m.	8:30 p. m.
19-25	8:40 p. m.	8:45 p. m.

The railroad also listed the schedules of the National Limited and the Diplomat which by-pass Cumberland over the Patterson's Creek cutoff and stop at Keyser.

Traveling west the National Limited will arrive at Keyser at 9:50 p. m. and leave at 9:55 p. m. The National Limited traveling east will arrive in Keyser at 3:40 a. m. and depart at 3:45 a. m.

The Diplomat traveling west arrives in Keyser at 12:45 a. m. and will leave 12:50 a. m. Traveling east it will arrive at Keyser at 8:38 a. m. and leave at 8:43 a. m.

Buses of the Peoples Transit Company, which travel from Cumberland to Frostburg and Westernport will go back to standard time on Sunday.

New Mexico Sheriff Visits Foster Parents

Deputy Sheriff John A. Harden of Albuquerque, N. M., is visiting his foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Appel, Grand Avenue, while returning from a business trip to Baltimore. He plans to return in December to take an examination for the Maryland State Police.

Harden, who left Cumberland about five years ago, is a graduate of Fort Hill High School and Frostburg State Teachers College and attended the University of Maryland before entering the Air Force. He is continuing his education by attending night classes at the University of New Mexico, majoring in science.

Clouds change their shape because parts of them evaporate when they come in contact with warmer air that is not saturated with moisture.

Missing Boy Found

KENSINGTON, Md., Oct. 24—A 3-year-old boy missing for seven hours was found about a mile from his home yesterday, tangled up in a barbed wire fence but unharmed. His faithful dog, of uncertain ancestry, was keeping him company.

Little Michael Brady wandered away from his home in mid-morning. Montgomery County police, firemen from Kensington and Sandy Spring, and several volunteers searched fanned out over the area.

Three telephone company employees discovered him caught fast in the wire near a creek.

Bad Luck Turns Out To Have Silver Lining

LOHAIN, O., (INS)—Mrs. Selma Loydall of Lorain found out that the loss of her purse containing $142 to a pick pocket was not all bad luck. She received two $10 gift certificates from anonymous persons who had read of her misfortune in a newspaper.

The roots of the licorice plant often reach 20 to 25 feet below the surface before they are dug up to make candy and seasoning.

Work On Reservoir Nearing Completion

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards has reported that repairs to the Ridgedale reservoir are about completed.

The work, being done by crews from the Lake Gordon filtration plant, includes the replacement of many of the top courses of concrete and caking of all joints in the upper part of the reservoir.

Similar repairs are being made at the Fort Hill reservoir by the George Construction Company.

Bold patterns and bright colors distinguish the work of modern weavers, knitters and embroiderers in Norway.

Russians Burn Brakes On Mountain

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 24—West Virginia's highways and mountains stumped a carload of touring Russians yesterday.

The group of four Russian officials from the Soviet Embassy in Washington arrived in Morgantown late for their appointments with a sorrowful tale of burned-out brakes on West Virginia's steep roads.

The spokesman, counselor Vladimir Lavrov, said he and his three comrades suddenly began smelling a stench that reminded them of burning rubber. It turned out to be their brakes.

By the time they had arranged repairs, the four Russians had missed a luncheon date at the Kiwanis Club here.

Coincidentally, the weekly Kiwanis program for today was built around the theme of earth satellites, at which Russia has demonstrated such aptitude with the Sputnik.

The group also includes Anatoli M. Goryachev and Sergei A. Bogomolov, second secretaries, and Valerian V. Mikhailov, third secretary. They arrived in Morgantown about 1:30 p. m. from Cumberland, where they were guests at a Rotary luncheon yesterday.

Business Briefs...

NEW YORK — (INS) — General Motors sales increased, but earnings dropped below the corresponding 1956 level for the first nine months of the year. Sales amounted to $8,235,000,000, a rise of more than $90 million. Net income of $603 million, or $2.14 per share, however, compared with $640 million and $2.28 a share last year.

For the third quarter, earnings amounted to $122 million against $137 million a year ago.

A report to shareholders said until sales of cars and trucks in the third quarter totaled 811,143 or 97 per cent of the volume a year ago. For nine months, sales are lagging seven per cent.

Pulp, Paper Company Declares Dividend

MORRIS PLAINS, N. J. — A 15 per cent increase in sales and a gain of 19 per cent in earnings for the first nine months of 1957 was announced today by Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. Profits quarterly dividend of $1.12 1/2 per share, amounting to $9,800,000 or $3.78 share on the 4 1/2 per cent cumulative common stock, on sales of $129,800,000.

NEW YORK — (INS) — A record at 3 p.m. on November 15, 1957, to stockholders.

Wall Street Hears...

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street Hears: Arkansas Louisiana Gas net this year seen above $1.80, compared with $1.56 a year ago.

Dow Jones Industrials now lagging about 50 points behind year-ago level.

Earnings of Melville Shoes likely to match the 1956 net of $1.95.

Poor showing of fishing tackle subsidiary may reduce Lionel Corp. net below year ago level.

Loss of 7 points early this week in the usually stable American Telephone & Telegraph is laid to the forced conversion into common of the 3 1/2 per cent debentures, called a week ago Monday.

Superior Oil California, says E. F. Hutton & Co. is reasonably priced (closed last night $1.45).

In "relation to its appraised value of $1,500 per share," Venezuela developments, the broker adds, eventually could add another $500 a share.

Southern California Edison year may show $5 a share vs. $4.20 last year.

Farm News Briefs...

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Mexico views on how quotas and usage will receive 500 thousand metric requirements should be established.

The largest corn sale negotiated within provisions of three-year-old emergency surplus disposal legislation.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Don Paarlberg said Mexico will utilize its local currency (pesos) to pay $26,600,000 for the corn and $1,600,000 for ocean transportation.

He added that under provisions of the deal, 25 per cent of the pesos obtained as sales proceeds will be used for loans to U.S. and Mexican private enterprise.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The Agriculture Department will stage hearings in Washington November 19 to determine 1958 sugar requirements and quotas for the continental United States.

Department spokesmen said they are interested in hearing testimony from persons with ad at no less than $1 a share vs. $3 indicated for 1957.

Anchor Hocking Glass this year may show $5 a share vs. $4.20 last year.

Sonata For No Shoes

PONCA CITY, Okla. — Homer Luther, operator of a music store, advertised that he had found a pair of girl's shoes. They were under a piano, along with the socks. He's keeping an eye out for a barefoot piano player.

Progress Noted On Street Project

Progress is being made on improvements to Memorial Avenue, according to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz. Buchholz said curbing and guttering work is almost complete and that the Cumberland Contracting Company will soon begin surfacing and blacktopping the area.

Ministerium To Sponsor Reformation Service Here

A Reformation service will be held Sunday, November 3, at First Presbyterian Church, sponsored by the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

The service will begin at 7:30 p. m., with the speaker being Rev. Dr. Charles E. Berger of Chevy Chase, whose topic will be "Luther's Rediscovery of the Gospel."

Music will be under the direction of Frank Gamble, supervisor of music for the public schools in Allegany County. Choirs of the churches in the city are asked to supply singers to make up the singing group for the service.

Dr. Berger is rector of All Saints Episcopal Church in Chevy Chase and is a native of Baltimore. He is a graduate of Hobart College, Geneva, N. Y., and the Virginia Theological Seminary in Alexandria, and received his degree of doctor of sacred theology in 1949 from Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

Dr. Berger is a member of the board of governor's of St. John's College, Annapolis; chairman of the Annapolis Housing Authority and vice president of the board of managers of General Hospital in Annapolis.

He is a member of the American Society of Church History and of the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, and served several years as editor of Episcopal Church News.

Dr. Berger served as rector for churches in Westminster, York, N. Y., Annapolis, and has been at All Saints Church since November 1 of last year. The Chevy Chase congregation is the largest Episcopal congregation in Maryland and one of the largest in the country.

Shriners Set Winter Event

The Ali Ghan Temple, AAOONS, will hold its winter ceremony on December 7 at the Shrine Country Club, according to Harry M. Hartman, Hagerstown, illustrious potentate.

The class will be named for and in honor of Roy A. Letter, Hagerstown. He is a past potentate of Ali Ghan Temple and has been an active member since the temple was chartered here.

All Ghan Temple now has about 1,430 members who live in Allegany, Garrett, Washington and Frederick counties.

Scheduled Saturday at 6:45 p. m. is the annual Ladies Night dinner and dance of Ali Ghan Temple.

Rev. George L. Wehler, chaplain, will give the invocation and Mr. Hartman will greet the 300 Nobles and their ladies who are planning to attend. He will also present gifts to the ladies.

Lakes and rivers in Manitoba annually produce a commercial fish catch worth more than six million dollars.

Veteran Aid Available In Area Towns

Veterans and their dependents may obtain advice on how to secure GI benefits from the Maryland Veterans Commission, according to Richard C. Manning, state service and executive officer.

Manning announced this morning that the service of the commission is available at the County Building on Union Street Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. until 4:30 p. m.

Thomas G. Kilduff, assistant state service officer, who works out of the local office, also makes monthly visits to Accident, Frostburg, Grantsville, Kitzmiller, Oakland, Westernport and Lonaconing.

Kilduff is in Accident on the fourth Monday of each month from 2:30 p. m. until 3 p. m., and at the City Hall in Frostburg the first and third Monday of each month from 1 until 4 p. m.

The fourth Monday of each month also finds Kilduff at Kitzmiller from 10 until 11:30 a. m., Oakland from noon until 2 p. m., and Grantsville from 3:30 until 4 p. m.

The local service officer visits Westernport on the first and third Mondays of each month from 10 a. m. until noon, and is in Lonaconing on the second Tuesday from 1 until 4 p. m.

Jury Deliberates On Woman's Murder

The case of James McHenry Chambers, 45-year-old railroad worker charged with murdering his wife, Mrs. Virginia Pearl Broadstock Chambers, 38, went to the jury in Allegany County Circuit Court around noon today.

Closing arguments by Edward J. Ryan, and William L.

Some Decline Reported In Flu Illness

Keyser, St. Peter's
Schools Closed
For Rest Of Week

A check of area schools today disclosed that most of them have a slight decline in the number of absentees because of the flu-type illness, although the number of absent students is still abnormally high.

The virus had affected so many students at Keyser Elementary and High schools yesterday that S. T. McGee, superintendent of Mineral County schools, ordered them closed for the remainder of the week.

Also closed until Monday is St. Peter's Parochial School in Westernport, where between 70 and 80 students failed to report for yesterday's classes.

High At Fort Ashby

McGee said 243 of Keyser High's student body of 934 were unable to report for classes yesterday. In the elementary school, absenteeism numbered 245 out of an enrollment of 890.

A check of other Mineral County schools today revealed that the incidence of the illness is mounting, but that no order had been issued for the closing of the schools.

Fort Ashby High School this morning had 115 students absent out of its enrollment of 305. The number is below Monday's high of 124 absentees, although the total is mounting daily since a drop to 106 on Tuesday. Yesterday, there were 107 absentees.

There were 78 students unable to report for classes today in Fort Ashby Elementary School. The number of absentees there has been steadily increasing since Monday when 60 were reported. On Tuesday there were 66, and the total yesterday was 68.

Up At Ridgeley

Piedmont High reported 37 of its 255 enrollment absent this morning. While high, the total is considerably below the 57 who were off sick Monday. The elementary school today reported the largest number of absentees to date, 78. From an enrollment of 302 students, there were 60 absent Monday, 66 Tuesday, and 68 yesterday.

Ridgeley High today reported a slight increase in the number of absentees, 73, as did the elementary school where 85 were off sick.

Students at St. Patrick's Parochial School returned to classes this morning after being excused from school at noon Monday. Sister Patricia Marie, principal, said the absenteeism totaled approximately 75 per cent of the enrollment, considerably better than the 33 per cent on Monday. A normal class schedule was called for today and tomorrow, Sister Patricia Marie said.

The number of absentees at St. Peter and Paul School numbered 176 today, an increase over yesterday's report. However, Sister Hilda, principal, said a decline was registered for the girls in the high school, Ursuline Academy, where but 14 were off sick.

Sister Xavier, principal of St. Mary's High School, reported there were approximately 100 absent in the high school and elementary grades today.

Allegany Down

Allegany High School this morning reported a slight increase in the number of students off sick, there being 430 compared to yesterday's total of 400. The increase was attributed to this morning's wet weather, although a school spokesman said the absentees included a number of students who had perfect records for the school year to date. Three teachers are also on the sick list.

At Fort Hill, the 439 absentees is below the 450 reported for yesterday. Among the absent are six teachers.

Both Valley High of Lonaconing and Bruce High of Westernport reported declines in absentees, although both totals are much higher than normal.

Bruce had 118 on the sick list today for the smallest total in some time. The school enrollment approximates 700. Two teachers are also among the absent. Hammond Street School in Westernport reported 153 of its 490 students absent this morning. The school principal, Miss Nellie Dowling, is also among the sick.

Valley High had 192 of some 700 students absent this morning, and Central Elementary in the same community, Lonaconing, reported 125 absentees, one more than yesterday.

Better In Garrett

Despite the closing of schools in Keyser, there are few sick at Potomac State College there. Dr. E. E. Church, president, this morning said the number is

Wilson, who are fighting to save Chambers from the gas chamber or life imprisonment, were based on a claim that the defendant has been telling the truth to authorities and at the trial.

They contended Chambers was a good family man who had never been in any previous trouble, and added that he showed no wilful intent or malice in the shooting on May 2 that climaxed a day of drinking.

Cite Loading of Gun

State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher and his assistant, James E. Getty, declared that loading the shotgun with three pumpkin balls was an act of deliberateness, with the primary aim of arming the weapon so it could be fired.

They reiterated that Chambers admitted he was angry, that he was looking straight at his wife when he fired the gun, and that the barrel of the weapon was only two feet away from her.

The second day of the trial opened today with Judge Morgan C. Harris reading the instructions to the jury.

In that, he told the jury of nine men and three women that they were the judges of the law and fact, and were to make their decision purely on the weight of evidence.

The defendant, he emphasized, is assumed to be innocent until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt or moral certainty.

Five Decisions Possible

Judge Harris then told them they could bring back one of five decisions, guilty of first degree murder, guilty of second degree murder, manslaughter, and lastly, not guilty.

He declared that first and second degree murder convictions must show that there was premeditation, and that the shooting was done in a wilful and deliberate manner, and in a cool state of mind.

Manslaughter must be when the act was not premeditated, he added.

Getty started the summation of the state's case, by reading Maryland law concerning the various degrees of murder.

Jury Sees Gun

The assistant state's attorney wielded the shotgun before the jury, and said Chambers had to pull the trigger; that it did not go off by itself the day he shot his wife.

Getty contended Chambers, B&O brakeman, had time to deliberate, and added that when he picked up the gun and loaded it, he was going to show her she wasn't going out of the house, as she had threatened.

"Chambers violated the laws of the state, and the laws of God Almighty," when he murdered his wife, Getty concluded.

Wilson was next and emphasized that Chambers was a good father, had a good record, and in addition to rearing his five children was supporting his stepson, and his mother-in-law.

He declared the jury had heard nothing evil about the defendant until yesterday, when witnesses including the accused man, told what went on in the kitchen of the Chambers' home at 324 Arch Street.

No Wilful Intent

In addition to the state not showing wilful intent, there was no scrap of evidence to show there was any malice, Wilson said.

After he shot his wife, thinking the safety was on, he went out in the back yard and rolled on the ground, screaming "I've killed my wife."

Wilson contended his actions proved the shooting was an accident.

Ryan pointed out that on May 2, before Chambers and his brother-in-law, Clarence Broadstock, who was visiting from St. Louis, went on a tour of two breweries and six taverns, the defendant spent some time fixing the bed of the couple's youngest child, then two months old.

His intention on his trip to the business section was to exchange shoes he and his wife had purchased the day before for the children, Ryan related.

Berated By Wife

When he returned home, after having been gone from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., his wife berated him, Ryan stated, for buying two pairs of white shoes for the children, in addition to being mad for being late for supper.

Ryan added that: "We are not God. If Chambers has violated the laws of God as Mr. Getty contended, God will take care of his laws."

Ryan concluded by stating that no one will suffer more for the shooting, which he termed an accident, than the defendant. He has five children to rear, he added.

Chambers has never offered an alibi, and has told the truth from the beginning, he said. "My brothers are bloodthirsty (meaning Getty and Fletcher). They want to turn the gas on. They want to take an eye for an eye."

VETERAN CONDUCTOR RETIRES—Adam F. Zais, Westernport, an employee of the Western Maryland Railway and one of the lines it acquired, the C&P Railroad, for 52 years, is shown yesterday receiving his certificate of retirement from W. E. Rayburn, trainmaster.

Scout Heads Will Attend Conference

Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be well represented at the annual meeting of Region 3, BSA, which will be held this weekend in Washington.

The region is comprised of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, District of Columbia, and parts of West Virginia and Virginia.

Dr. Thomas Bess, Keyser, council president, the only Scoutmaster from Potomac Council who has ever been on the executive board of the region, will participate in the program.

He will speak at a meeting of council presidents on ideas of increasing Boy Scout membership.

Potomac Council ranks second in the region from the standpoint of increase in membership, and is one of the few in the nation having an upward trend.

Miles G. Thompson Sr., Nemaquin Trail District commissioner, former council president, and a member of the council's executive board will also speak.

His topic will be the training of commissioners at a session of council and district commissioners. According to Willis V. Smith, council executive, Thompson has done a remarkable job in neighborhood commissioner training in his district.

Attending besides Dr. Bess and Thompson, will be Mrs. Bess and Mrs. Thompson; Dr. and Mrs. Donald P. Whitworth, Westernport; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Park, Petersburg; and Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Potomac State Tilt Saturday Cancelled

The scheduled football game between Potomac State College and Concord College at Athens, W. Va., Saturday has been cancelled because of several cases of flu among the gridgers of both schools.

Man Completes 52 Years Of Perfect Railroading

Nearly 52 and a half years of service as a brakeman and conductor, hazardous jobs that require working out doors on railroad cars in all kinds of weather, have been completed by a Westernport man without a reportable injury.

A reportable injury is one that finds the employee off duty 72 hours during the ten days following an accident.

The holder of this record is Adam F. Zais, who retired yesterday from the Western Maryland Railway.

According to W. E. Rayburn, trainmaster for the Western Division, Zais, in addition to his splendid safety record, had no suspensions from duty due to violation of railroad rules.

Zais began his work with the C&P Railroad on July 5, 1905. Prior to that time he had worked in the engineering department in maintenance of way work.

He also had a year in the Keyser shops of the B&O Railroad. All of his service on the C&P and its successor, the Western Maryland, has been on the Georges Creek Branch. He worked every turn possible on the two railroads.

He began as a brakeman and on October 1, 1909 was promoted to conductor.

Zais recalled in summing up his accidents, that a hopper ran over one of his fingers and he fell off a boxcar backwards, but luckily neither injury was serious. He also had a close shave at the Mt. Savage station when he fell along side a moving train, but he managed to roll free of the wheels.

Zais was married to the former Miss Grace McFarland of Lonaconing 51 years ago in September. They have three children: Mrs. Virgil Springs, Westernport; Mrs. Lillian Knierner, Grafton; and Marvin Zais, Westernport.

They also have seven grandchildren, one granddaughter, and two great-grandsons.

To Hold Ride

The Potomac Valley Riding Club will hold a trail ride Sunday at 11 a. m. from Woodland Inn, Route 28.

Former Local Pastor Plans Vocal Benefit

A former local pastor, who was one of the first boys to be enrolled in the Strawberry Home for Boys at Sykesville, will present a concert in Washington next month for the benefit of the Methodist-supported institution.

He is Rev. James A. Richards, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, Elizabeth, N. J., and former pastor of First Methodist Church here. His baritone concert will be presented at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday, November 5, at Foundry Methodist Church, 16th and P streets in northwest Washington.

Rev. Mr. Richards entered the Strawberry Home in 1924, and graduated as the best boy student in the 1932 class at Sykesville High School. He was awarded a voice scholarship at his graduation and made frequent singing engagements to earn his way through college. He graduated from Western Maryland College in 1936 and received a B. D. degree in 1941 from Westminster Theological Seminary.

Rev. Mr. Richards was also awarded an honorary degree from the seminary in 1951.

He studied music at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore and has sung in recitals in that area since 1932. Rev. Mr. Richards has been soloist with the Handel Choir in Baltimore, with the Richmond Choral Society of New York, at the Ocean Grove, N. J., auditorium and the Staten Island (N. Y.) Symphony Orchestra.

He will be accompanied by Collins Smith, a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music who has toured as accompanist for many of the Metropolitan and Columbia Concert artists.

Man Jailed On Motor Counts

An unemployed father of ten children was committed to the Allegany County Jail this morning for 120 days after being found guilty of three serious motor vehicle violations.

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick ordered Emory Robertson, 38, of RD 3, Valley Head, committed to jail when he was unable to pay fines totaling $302.95. He was found guilty of leaving the scene of an accident and two other motor violations.

The man was apprehended by Maryland State Police a short time after he had rammed his automobile into a utility pole on Winnow Street.

Officer Harry Iser of the Cumberland Police Department, who investigated the mishap at 8:30 p. m., said Carol Ann Robertson, 11-year-old daughter of the driver, was badly injured in the crash.

Officer Iser said the child was taken to Memorial Hospital by a passing motorist. She is reported in "good" condition today with lacerations of her forehead.

5000 Chickens Fried In Fire Near Romney

Fried chicken was at a reduced rate in the Romney area this morning after fire swept two chicken houses last night.

The blaze, which started at 8 p. m., destroyed two buildings on the farm of John Lowell, six miles northeast of Romney on State Route 28.

Henry Powell, chief of the Romney Volunteer Fire Department, said 5,000 chickens were "fried" in the blaze. Firemen were able to save 4,000 more chickens which were housed in a nearby building.

Chief Powell said the buildings were beginning to cave in when firemen arrived on the scene.

Mrs. John Lowell told firemen that her husband had left the house about 20 minutes before the blaze broke out. She said she glanced out the window and noticed the two buildings engulfed in flames.

Mrs. Lowell had to travel some distance before reaching a telephone to call firemen. The chickens had been housed in the building on Tuesday.

Chief Powell estimated damage at $3,000.

Woman Struck By Car On Street

Mrs. Edith Beachy, 75, of 71 Greene Street, is reported in "fair" condition today at Sacred Heart Hospital where she was admitted last night after being struck by a car near her home.

Attaches said the woman sustained a possible injury to her left leg.

Officers John Powers and Kenneth Morrissey, who investigated, said Mrs. Beachy was struck by Bedford Street, died last night an automobile being driven by Jesse J. Heavner, 27, of Wiley.

Police said Heavner was traveling toward downtown Cumberland at the time and that the spot was rather dark and the street was wet from rain.

No charges have been filed against the driver pending the outcome of the victim's injuries.

Club Savings Move Upward In Past Year

Financial Institutions
To Pay $808,996 To
8,153 Next Month

Santa Claus will arrive a little early this year for some 8,153 area residents.

Santa will be in the form of an estimated $808,996.30 which will be distributed by Cumberland's five financial institutions. The institutions will mail checks about the middle of November for members of their Christmas Savings Clubs.

Increase Of $50,000

A check this morning with the five institutions in Cumberland revealed that fewer people built a "nest egg" for this Christmas, but the ones who did join clubs saved more money than last year.

During 1956 the local firms distributed $749,094.25, while during the present year a total of $808,996.30 was saved, which represents an increase of $59,902.05 over the previous year.

This year a total of 8,153 persons joined clubs, a decrease of 312 when compared to the 8,465 who joined in 1956.

The Liberty Trust Company will begin mailing checks on November 18 and will have a total of $312,126.30 to send out to 2,572 club members.

The First National Bank will mail its checks November 9. The institution will be mailing an estimated $163,000 to some 1,924 club members. These figures represent an increase of $27,000 to 155 more members here in 1956.

Others Make Reports

The Second National Bank will start mailing Christmas checks on November 15 to 1,030 members in the amount of $85,000. In 1956 the bank had 870 members saving $71,570.

The First Federal Savings Company will mail checks totaling $150,000 to 1,869 persons on November 18. Last year the firm mailed checks to 1,619 people in the amount of $115,513.

The Cumberland Savings Bank, South End will mail out an estimated $98,770 to 788 persons beginning November 9. The bank's totals for 1956 were 754 members getting $81,125.

Local Marines Plan Celebration For November 8

The Sixth Special Infantry Company will celebrate the 132nd birthday of the U. S. Marine Corps with a birthday dance.

The birthday of the Corps falls on Sunday, November 10, but the local Marine Reserve unit will hold its celebration on Friday, November 8, according to Capt. Richard V. Moleksy, USMC.

Capt. Moleksy said this morning the celebration will be held at the Elk Ghan City Club, 123 South Centre Street, from 8 p. m. until midnight. A birthday cake cutting ceremony will be featured.

Tickets for the affair may be obtained from members of the local unit or by telephoning the Marine Corps Training Center on McKaig's Hill.

Arrow Season For Deer Opens

The bow and arrow season for deer will begin tomorrow at sunrise and continue until November 14, according to Joseph Minke, regional game warden.

Minke pointed out that the bow season will overlap the squirrel and wild turkey season until October 31. He warned hunters that they will not be permitted to hunt with a bow and arrow and firearm at the same time.

Minke said kills may be checked in at either Shipway Inn on U. S. Route 40 or the State Police Barracks in LaVale.

Kills in Washington County may be checked in at the Bridge Diner in Hancock and Ankeney's Store, Clear Spring. The game warden noted that both male and female deer may be killed during the 20-day season.

Mrs. Birdie B. Harvey

KITZMILLER — Mrs. Birdie Blanche Harvey, 82, died yesterday in Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, where she had been a patient since Monday.

A lifelong resident of Kitzmiller, she was a daughter of the late Charles R. and Melissa (Webb) Wilson and was the widow of William W. Harvey.

Survivors include seven daughters, Mrs. Oral Sharpless, Mrs. Myrtle Paugh, Mrs. Minnie Whitacre and Mrs. Mildred Beeman, all of here, and Mrs. Martha Weyant, Mrs. Vera Doult and Mrs. Abigail Davis, all of Akron; four sons, Raymond, Asbury, William and Everett Harvey, all of here; a brother, Robert Wilson, Kitzmiller; a sister, Mrs. Mary Harvey, also of here; 55 grandchildren, and a number of great-grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Saturday at 3 p. m. at Mt. Bethel Methodist Church by Rev. Charles D. Pence, pastor, assisted by Rev. Leroy Harvey of Oakland. Burial will be in the IOOF Cemetery at Elk Garden.

The body is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Paugh.

Thomas Woods

LONA CONING — Thomas Woods, 74, a former resident, died yesterday at his home in Alliquippa, Pa., following an extended illness.

He was a son of the late Patrick and Mary Ann (Keating) Woods.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Helen (Gilpin) Woods; a son, Francis Woods, Alliquippa, and two brothers, John Woods, Cumberland, and Terrence Woods, Lonaconing.

Walker Services

KITZMILLER — Services for William D. Walker, 86, who died Tuesday at his home here, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. at Mt. Bethel Church by Rev. Charles D. Pence, pastor. Burial will be in IOOF Cemetery, Elk Garden.

Pallbearers will be J. W. Wheeler, M. F. Wright, Hollis Wilson, Paul Schultz, Huber Norman and Ralph Bishop. Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Methodist Men's Class.

The body is at the residence and will be taken to the church tomorrow at noon.

Royal Arch Masons To Attend Services

All Royal Arch Masons in the area will observe Affirmation Day next Sunday at 11 a. m. at Centre Street Methodist Church. Members will meet at the church at 10:45 a. m. and march into the edifice in a body.

Four Lose Jobs

BALTIMORE — Four men fired after pleading the Fifth Amendment before a House Un-American Activities subcommittee have failed in their efforts to win back their jobs at Bethlehem Steel Co.

relatively low and that no curtailment of classes is anticipated.

Both Garrett County high schools, Northern at Accident and Southern at Oakland, reported declines in absenteeism. The former had 132 absent today, compared to 140 yesterday, while Southern High had about 28 percent of its enrollment, 1,120, on the sick list. The actual number was 320, school officials said.

The virus is also affecting school-related activities. A meeting of the Ridgeley Parent-Teacher Association scheduled tonight has been cancelled, and an amateur show scheduled at John Humbird School here tomorrow evening, sponsored by the school and PTA, has been postponed to November 8.

Delaware's Best Land Going To Buildings

WASHINGTON — Some of Delaware's best farm land is rapidly being taken over by building and highway developments, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service said today.

Of a total of 904,000 acres of top crop land in Delaware, only 88,000 was in use for non-agricultural purposes in 1912. Soil conservation officials said.

Judge Orders New Trial For Boxer Aragon

LOS ANGELES—(INS)—A new trial has been ordered for Art (Golden Boy) Aragon, Los Angeles boxer who was convicted last March of offering a $500 bribe to fix a fight in Texas.

The order was issued by the district court of appeals yesterday in a decision in which it blasted the trial judge, Herbert V. Walker, and called the trial "a miscarriage of justice."

Bistors Prosecutor

The appellate court also blasted the prosecutor, William Ritz, for slipping in statements about inadmissible lie detector tests given to Aragon and boxer Dick Goldstein in San Antonio.

The court said that "it would take a naive person to believe that the prosecution had any purpose in mind other than to take unfair advantage of the defendant."

Verger On Riddle

The court said that Judge Walker made statements to Aragon's counsel which verged on ridicule and which strongly indicated his leaning in favor of the prosecution.

Aragon, third-ranking welterweight, was convicted of offering Goldstein $500 to take a dive in a fight they were to have fought in San Antonio. He faced a one-to-five-year prison term as a result.

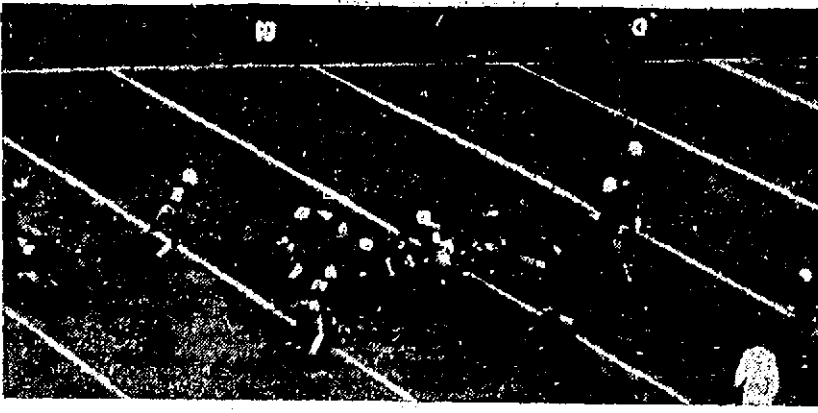

In addition, his boxing license was revoked. It was indicated that he may apply for immediate reinstatement.

Ref Hits Deck, Boyd Gets Nod

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (U)—Onetime top middleweight contender Bob Boyd of Chicago scored a 10-round unanimous decision over Franz Sautina of Germany last night in a bout that saw only the referee hit the deck.

Sautina, who weighed 159, sent Referee Joe Palmer to the canvas after the seventh-round bell as the official was trying to break the fighters. Boyd was a pound over the middleweight limit at 161.

Boyd, on the comeback trail after suffering a broken jaw a year ago September, scored early and without Sautina's desperation punches.

EDUCATED TOE—Yale and Dartmouth battled to a 33-33 tie in their 1931 game in the Yale Bowl. Albion Booth starred for the Eli and Wild Bill McCall for Dartmouth. However, it was Dartmouth's Bill Morton's final-period field goal that ended the scoring. Above Morton is shown booting his first field goal of the game from Yale's 24-yard line.

Jewel's Reward Stakes' Favorite

CAMDEN, N. J. (U)—Chrysanthemums and cash take the place of roses and tradition Saturday in the fifth running of the Garden State, a golden gallop paying the world's richest stakes prize.

A top crop of two-year-olds, plied by some of the nation's leading jockeys, will be seeking the winners share of the $275,150 pot. If all 12 horses nominated go to the post, the winner stands to collect a cool $186,334, as well as a wreath of mums for the victory.

Jewel's Reward, the Maine Chance Farm entry with Willie Shoemaker up, was the pre-race favorite. Willie Hartack and Eric Guerin also will be in there booting their horses home. Hartack was slated to ride Nadir while Guerin was signed to handle Rose Trellis.

Fearer Church Loop Meets This Evening

Plans for the 1957-58 season of the Fearer Memorial Basketball League will be made at a meeting today, 7:15 p. m., at Salem Reformed Church, Frostburg.

This will be the 11th season for the league which was formerly the Frostburg Church League. The 16 teams that started and finished last season are expected to retain their franchises with St. Michael's Catholic being the defending champion. The season will start the latter part of next month.

Famous Football Games Yale-Dartmouth 33-33 Tie Eli Bowl's Wildest

BY LOU BLACK

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (U)—Twenty-six years ago, Yale and Dartmouth played a delicious 33-33 tie football game. It still rates as the wildest, weirdest, most exciting gridiron battle ever seen in the Yale Bowl.

The crowd was left limp and exhausted at the finish. Fortunate witnesses, many of them grandparents today, still thrill over it, and for good reason.

New generations of fans, their curiosity aroused by the free-scoring, write hundreds of letters annually to the Yale and Dartmouth athletic officials for details. Some want to know if the 33-33 tie isn't a typographical error. Who can blame them?

Booth vs. McCall

Albion Booth, Yale's famed "Little Boy Blue," who with Dartmouth's "Wild Bill" McCall emerged from this frenzy of scoring and long runs as the outstanding performers, said only recently that he "still can't believe it happened."

The fact is that no adjective can describe that Oct. 31, 1931, game so well as a simple, chronological report of what happened. There was no score in the first quarter. But in the next period, Yale Blue and Dartmouth Green jerseys raced up and down the gridiron in dizzy patterns and wild moments.

Bill (Air Mail) Morton shot underdog Dartmouth ahead with a field goal from the 24-yard line. Capt. Booth took the next kickoff on his six-yard line, and with solid blocking, twisted and sidestepped 95 yards for a touchdown. He missed the point. Yale 6, Dartmouth 3.

Booth Breaks Loose

Kay Todd, a left-handed passer, connected with Booth on a 22-yard aerial for a touchdown. Ed Holan, Yale guard, missed the extra point. Yale 12, Dartmouth 3.

Booth broke off tackle and ran 53 yards for his third and final touchdown. He drop-kicked the extra point. Yale 19, Dartmouth 3. Morton threw a 22-yard pass to McCall. The ball bounced off a Yale player's hands. Wild Bill nabbed it and raced 64 yards for the score. Morton kicked the extra point. Yale 19, Dartmouth 10.

Bob Lassiter ran 50 yards to Dartmouth's 7. Three plays later, Clem Williamson bulled over from the 2. Carl Sanberg converted. Yale 26, Dartmouth 10.

Indians Fight Back

Early in the third quarter, Lassiter pitched 20 yards to Herster Barres for a touchdown. Hofan converted. Yale 33, Dartmouth 10. McCall ran the kickoff back 92 yards for a touchdown, his second. Morton place-kicked the conversion. Yale 33, Dartmouth 17.

Dartmouth end Roger Donner blocked a kick on Yale's 30, picked up the bounding ball on the 17 and ran for the score. Morton converted. Yale 33, Dartmouth 24.

In the final period, McCall intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards for his third touchdown, equalling Booth's spectacular performance. Morton missed the extra point. Yale 33, Dartmouth 30.

Morton kicked a 23-yard field goal, his second of the game. Yale 33, Dartmouth 33.

With darkness settling down, Yale tried desperately to score again. The contest ended as Booth was preparing for a try at a field goal on Dartmouth's 20.

Moore To Defend Against Spieser

DETROIT (U)—Detroit, which hasn't had a championship boxing match since Ezzard Charles' decision Jersey Joe Walcott in 15 rounds on March 7, 1951, has officially been awarded a January light heavyweight title bout.

It will match champion Archie Moore against Chuck Spieser, a 28-year-old slugger who always called Detroit home.

The contracts were officially drawn up and signed yesterday. Moore and his co-managers, Charlie Johnston and Doc Kearns, have a choice of $100,000 or 40 per cent of the net receipts, including TV money.

RUNNING TO FORM

ATLANTA—(NEA)—Georgia Tech, which makes a profession of winning enough football games each fall to land in a bowl game, is even more professional-looking on the field this year. Tech has strengthened its "belly series" with spread suffused by the pros.

US Grabs Big Lead As Snead Sets Record

TOKYO (U)—A course record 87 by Sam Snead and a 60 by Jimmy Demaret sent the United States off to an imposing five-stroke lead today in defense of the international Canada Cup golf championship.

Putting the Kasumigaseki Country Club's rough korai grass greens as if they were marble-topped, the two veteran Yanks outclassed handpicked professionals from 29 other nations in the opening round of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

Five strokes back in second place came the surprising Japanese team of Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono.

Nakamura, 42, a teaching professional, shot a 68, second only to Snead's record round. Ono fired 73 for 141.

The competitive course record for this picturesque 6,895-yard layout was 69, held by Tokyo players. Snead, 45, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., recouped with dead-eyed putting after straying from the fairway on six holes.

The tournament decides championships in both individual and team competition, the latter based on combined scores of the two representatives.

Two strokes back of the Japanese at 141 came the young South African team of Harold Henning and Gary Player, who shot 71 and 72, respectively.

Tumultuous Greeting Given Haney Named Pilot Of Year

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—This city gave big league baseball a tumultuous welcome last night. Hundreds of spectators strained against ropes as a chartered plane carrying the vanguard of the Los Angeles Dodgers set down at International Airport.

Cheers blended with jazz and band music as the plane taxied into the glare of television lights. A U.S. senator was jostled and noticed in the crush.

Loud Roar For O'Malley

President Walter O'Malley was the first of the 23 Dodger officials off the plane. His beaming Irish face was greeted with a loud roar. He waved his arm at huge lettering on the side of the plane—"Los Angeles Dodgers." Another roar from the crowd.

Brandel won the weekly Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters for his key play in the Balmakers' 20-13 upset last Saturday of Michigan State, then ranked No. 1 in the nation.

A 19-year-old 200-pounder from Hamilton, Ohio, Brandel recovered an MSU fumble on the Spartan 19 in the second quarter that paved the way for Purdue's tying touchdown at 7-7.

It was the turning point of the game, Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf said afterwards. "After that we knew we had them."

Breedlove, another 19-year-old, was a standout as Maryland upset North Carolina 21-7 before Queen Elizabeth II.

The 215-pounder twice threw North Carolina backs for losses on key plays, made tackles all over the field and made a vital block on Ted Kershner's 81-yard touchdown run in the last quarter that broke a 7-7 tie. Maryland Coach Tommy Mont said mollen pictures showed Breedlove was in on over 60 per cent of the tackles made by Maryland players.

Breedlove had been named the Atlantic Coast Conference Sophomore of the Week by the Associated Press yesterday.

Haney Named Pilot Of Year

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (U)—"It's a surprise to me," Fred Haney said last night when informed he had been named National League Manager of the Year in the annual Associated Press poll.

Haney, who led the Milwaukee Braves to their first pennant and world championship, was resting in his motel room in this northern Arizona community. He asked for details. A few paragraphs of an Associated Press story were read.

"That's terrific," he said. "Naturally I'm honored and very happy about it. We are on our way to Los Angeles and I stopped here for the night. I hadn't heard a thing about it."

Haney won in a close vote over Fred Hutchinson, pilot of the second-place St. Louis Cardinals. Haney received 90 votes and Hutchinson 84 of the 108 cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America. Mayo Smith of the Philadelphia Phillies was named on five ballots and Bill Tilden of the New York Giants on one.

Sandwich Idea

Whole-wheat bread sandwiches may be made with a filling of cream cheese and sliced bananas. Slice frozen sweetened raspberries and serve over sliced frozen peaches (thawed) and vanilla ice cream.

Hard And Soft Cheese

Both hard and soft-type cheese should be kept refrigerated in tightly covered containers. Get your cold soups ready some hours before you plan to serve them so flavors can blend in the refrigerator.

Make Sandwiches Ahead

Making sandwiches ahead? Wrap them tightly in waxed paper and then cover them with a damp towel; store in the refrigerator. The sandwiches have a good chance of lasting fresh this way.

Chuck Roast On Best Buy List For Food Shoppers

By The Associated Press
Three old favorites will vie for housewives' attention at meat counters this weekend. They are chuck roast, poultry and pork.

Roast loin of pork is probably the best bet with reductions advertised by major food chains ranging from 4 to 10 cents a pound. Another Sunday dinner possibility is fresh ham. It's being promoted as a weekend bargain special for the first time this fall.

Chuck roast is attractively priced but the general trend for other cuts of beef is higher. Whole sale prices are firm.

Cornish Hens Reduced
Frying chickens and roasting turkeys head the parade of meat buys in the poultry department. For fancier palates, cornish hens are available at reduced prices in some cities.

Turkeys are in more than ample supply. By Thanksgiving week prices are likely to be a little higher than now but they'll still be four, five or six cents a pound lower than last Thanksgiving.

With Halloween coming up, you can count on plentiful supplies of pumpkins and apples. In case you hadn't noticed, this is National Apple Week. Practically all of the more popular varieties are being offered at attractive prices.

Other outstanding buys in fruit include pears (notably the Bartlett and Bosc varieties) and California grapes (especially Emperor and Thompson seedless).

Citrus fruits are returning again. Good buys are available in Florida grapefruit and California oranges. Honeydew melons are in ample supply, but the quality is far from uniform and they should be chosen with care.

Egg Prices Mixed
Best buys on the vegetable counter are cabbage, onions, potatoes, radishes, sweet potatoes and beets. Listed as good buys are carrots, cauliflower, hearts of celery, cucumbers, peppers, squash and lettuce.

Egg prices show mixed trends this week. Generally speaking the most expensive eggs—the large

Grade "A" white—are down a little, while the medium-sized and pullet varieties are higher.

Make Surprise Pack For Halloween Party

PHOENIX, Ariz. (INS)—Here's a Halloween party table decoration tip from Ruth Dunlop, director of women's activities at television station KPHO in Phoenix. Place a party favor in a crumpled newspaper page, bringing the edges to the top and tying them with string.

Cut a piece of heavy, black paper into a hat brim. Paste a tall cone to the brim.

Cut out eyes, nose and mouth from black and orange paper and paste to the crumpled newspaper. Use plenty of long strands of gray ribbon for hair under the hat.

Crush the bottom of the newspaper so that it will stand flat as a piece of white paper placed at each table setting.

What a surprise when the witch's face is opened to find a gift inside!

Speedy Pizzas To Please All

Quick easy meals to satisfy teen-age appetites and thirst are not always easy to come by. But here's one that has every promise of winning the respect of teen-age appetites and thirst. Hurry-up individual pizzas and tall tinkling glasses of iced tea.

Hurry-Up Pizzas (Makes 12 small pizzas)

2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon onion juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
Mozzarella cheese
Rolled anchovies
6 English muffins, halved

Combine first six ingredients. Simmer gently 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Ladle 2 tablespoons sauce over English muffin halves.

Top with slice of cheese and rolled anchovies. Bake in 450° F. oven 20 minutes or until cheese is melted.

For coffee lovers: serve coffee gelatin with a garnish of sweetened whipped cream sprinkled with a suspicion of pulverized coffee.

Bread pudding takes on extra flavor when it gets a topping of jellymeringue.

Delicious new dish for the day after your turkey feast—

TURKEY-RICE RING

Combine 1/2 cup milk with 1 can cream of chicken soup. Heat. Stir in 1/2 cup sliced cooked mushrooms, 2 cups diced cooked turkey, 1/2 tsp. Sterling Salt, 1/4 cup diced pimiento. Keep hot. To serve, arrange freshly cooked rice in a ring (use a colorful casserole) and fill with the creamed turkey.

Any dish has extra zest, extra flavor richness when cooked and seasoned with Sterling Salt!

Sauerkraut Roast

Pot roast for sauerkraut should be braised in part of its apple marinade. The rest of the marinade may be used in the gravy for the meat.

A little sugar, added to the milk-and-egg mixture in which you dip bread when you are making French toast, helps the slices brown.

Soup And Cheese

Heat a can of condensed tomato soup with a cup of finely grated cheddar cheese over low heat. Serve over meat chops for something delicious and different.

Scald that metal lunch box often! Be sure it is outfitted with a wide-mouthed vacuum bottle so you can send along a good supply of nourishing hot foods.

Fruit And Cheese Dieters' Lunch

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

FRUIT AND CHEESE are particularly good to choose for snack food these days because there is usually a weight-watcher or two among a group of guests.

A combination we like to serve consists of fresh Bartlett pears, seedless grapes and a sherried blue cheese spread. You can have some potato chips on hand, if you like, for munchers.

We use salad-size plates and fruit knives for this snack so eaters can spread the cheese on slices of pear and put a dab of it on a grape or a chip. The recipe for the spread calls for only three ingredients — more would distract from its heavenly flavor. Make up this spread a couple of days to a week before you serve it, then refrigerate it in a tightly covered container. This storage allows the three ingredients to blend with each other so there's a mellow, delectable result.

WEIGHT-WATCHER'S SNACK: Fresh Bartlett pears and a sherried blue cheese spread are ideal for dieters who munch or munchers who diet.

Or offer the pears with soft cheddar cheese mixed with toasted walnuts broken up coarsely. Soft cheddar may be bought in a roll-type package in most large food markets.

SHERIED BLUE CHEESE:
Ingredients: ½ pound cream cheese, ½ pound blue cheese, ½ cup cooking sherry.
Method: Have the cream cheese and blue cheese at room temperature; scrape off any brown outside covering from blue cheese. Blend together in a large bowl with an electric mixer at medium speed, or use a mixing spoon. Gradually beat in the sherry. Continue to beat until very smooth. If you want the mixture super-smooth, force it through a very fine sieve. Store in lightly-covered container in refrigerator for a couple of days to allow flavors to blend. Makes about 3 cups. To use as a dip, allow to soften at room temperature, stirring in any liquid that seeps up to top, before serving. To serve as a spread, turn into a small container surrounded with crushed ice; the ice will help keep the cheese mixture firm.

OTHER TWOSOMES
Another fine way to serve fresh pears is with cream cheese to which grated orange rind and slivers of preserved ginger (in syrup) are added.

Or accompany the pears with a bowl of cream-style cottage cheese to which grated lemon rind and chopped raisins are added. Wash the raisins in very hot water and drain well before chopping. Currants may be substituted for the raisins if you

Freeze Apple Pie For Autumn Use

PORTLAND, Ore. — (INS) — Housewives can make the crowded hours of holiday preparation and cooking a little less hectic by freezing apple pie filling for winter use.

Mrs. Ruth Klippstein, Oregon State College extension nutritionist, tells how this can be done with frozen apple slices to be used in pies.

The procedure for making and freezing apple pie filling follows: Wash, peel and core apples. To prevent darkening during preparation, slice them into a salt water solution—two tablespoons salt to a gallon of water. Then drain.

To retard darkening of apples during storage, place slices in a single layer in a steamer and steam one and one-half to two minutes, depending on thickness of apple slice. Cool in cold water and drain. Then prepare according to your favorite pie recipe.

Be sure to have frozen slices thawed before the rest of the pie ingredients are added, such as sugar and thickening agents recommended in regular apple pie recipe.

Since spices may become stronger during freezing, Mrs. Klippstein recommends the smaller amounts of spices be used or that spices be added when making the pies.

Pack amount of apple pie mixture needed for a single pie in a container, label "for pies" and freeze.

Holiday Leftovers Taste Good

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — Another name for leftovers is "turkey," guaranteed to make the return of the holiday bird an appealing event.

You will need:
2 large onions, sliced
2 green peppers, sliced lengthwise
½ cup salad oil
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
1 can tomato paste
1 pound uncooked spaghetti, broken up

1 can (eight ounce) mushrooms, drained
3 cups cooked turkey, cut up grated parmesan cheese.
Cook onions and peppers in oil until limp; add the remaining ingredients, except for the turkey. Cover and cook, stirring occasionally for about 25 minutes or until the spaghetti is tender. Stir in the turkey and cook until sauce is the consistency you like. Top with grated parmesan cheese. Serves six.

Champagne Whipped

In an era of plenty, 1957 marks the year when champagne was first served with whipped cream. This dessert recipe was developed for a "champagne flight" out of San Francisco and will serve 35 or 40 for a club gathering.

You will need one pound of lemon gelatin, half a pound of apple gelatin, one quart of hot water, two quarts of ice and water and a bottle of California champagne.

Dissolve the gelatin in boiling water. Add ice and water, stirring hard to cause bubbles to form. Add champagne before gelatin is completely thickened. Stir again before pouring into individual cups.

When set, top with whipped cream and stemmed red cherry.

Sprinkle a one-crust apple pie, before baking, with a crumbly topping usually used on coffee-cake. To make the topping, work together a cup of flour, a quarter pound of butter and a half cup of granulated sugar. With this topping, the apples in the pie should be sweetened less than usual.

Contract Let For Factory At Frostburg

FROSTBURG—Ground will be broken this week for the Frostburg unit of the Cumberland Lindegarment Company, Mayor Joseph James announced last night. He informed members of the Frostburg Industrial Development Company, meeting in City Hall, that the factory building will be erected in Grahamstown.

A contract for the building to house sewing operations of the garment firm has been awarded to Orrle R. Sensabaugh who began moving equipment to the plant site today, he said.

Mayor James said the two-acre site, located between Grahamstown and Wrights Crossing near the old C & P Railroad tracks, was chosen because of the high cost of providing utilities at the original site near the town's filter plant.

Members of the committee were also informed that letters are being sent to those who signed pledges during the campaign to raise $80,000 to finance the factory.

He said those who made pledges are being asked to fill out pledge cards.

Receipts will be issued, he added, until bonds can be engraved and presented.

Pledges will be received by David Wilhelms of the Frostburg National Bank, and William Vogtman, city clerk.

The garment firm plans to locate its sewing operations in Frostburg and to continue packing and shipping operations in a new building at Cumberland.

Pledges made to the Frostburg Industrial Development Company will be used to finance the construction of the factory building. The plant will be leased to the undergarment firm.

The state capital building in Little Rock, Ark., is patterned after the National Capitol in Washington, D. C.

George Failing Given Promotion By Paper Firm

LUKE—Promotion of George H. Failing, 212 Miller Street, Westernport, to the position of administrative assistant to the paper mill superintendent at the Luke plant of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company has been announced by William M. Thompson, general superintendent and John M. Clabaugh, mill superintendent.

Failing has worked at the Luke mill since 1946 when he joined the staff as an accounting engineer in the main office. In 1955 he became a cost accountant, and in 1956 he was transferred to the paper mill from the main office in that capacity.

A graduate of Duke University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration, Failing also took graduate work at New York University. He worked for Price Waterhouse and Company, public accounting firm, in New York City and for the Talon Company as supervisor of internal auditing at Meadville, Pa., prior to joining the Navy in 1942. He served 42 months as a commissioned officer and joined the Luke mill staff after being separated from service.

Failing, whose father, the late Henry O. Failing, was office manager at the Luke mill, is the director of the Horse Rock Hill housing development that has been undertaken by the mill on the outskirts of Westernport.

Fruit Cake Sale Slated

KEYSER—A holiday fruit cake sale has been planned by the Keyser Lions Club to raise funds for charitable activities, according to President James R. Fuller Jr., who said the cakes may be ordered from any member of the club.

Donald C. Hoff has been named chairman of the cake sale and his committee is composed of: Arnet Swisher, publicity; Ray Davidson, industrial sales; Ake Goldsworthy, general canvassing and Kenneth Haffen, supply and distribution.

The club will offer three and five-pound "Old Home Sweet Fruit Cakes," gift-wrapped for sale. All profits from the sale will go to the Lions fund for the blind.

Area Couple Gets $18,500 For Property

OAKLAND—A Circuit Court jury has awarded Mr. and Mrs. Hubert M. Weeks, Mt. Lake Park, $18,500 for their home and six acres or more of property. The actual amount was six acres, plus easements.

The State Roads Commission had started proceedings to obtain the property for highway improvements to the Deer Park-Mt. Lake Park Road, and early in January placed $13,000 on deposit in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of Circuit Court. This was the amount the SRC appraisers had set as a value on the property.

Upon objections and an appeal by Mr. and Mrs. Weeks the settlement was placed in the hands of a Board of Property Review on July 21, and the three members of this board placed a value of $17,975 on the property to be taken. An appeal from this decision was entered by Mr. and Mrs. Weeks and the case was heard before a Garrett County jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks through their attorneys, Walter W. Dawson and W. Dwight Stover, sought $25,000 as damages.

Weeks, mayor of Mt. Lake Park, and a retired Baltimore and Ohio station agent, constructed his six-room bungalow and garage several years ago on a portion of his 42 acres of property across the highway from the Mt. Lake Park postoffice. The house was brick veneer. Weeks testified he planned to sell lots from the balance of his property until it became known that the State Roads Commission was planning to condemn it.

The Weeks case is one of several that will be heard by the jury within the next few months, all as the result of condemnation proceedings against property owners along the Deer Park-Mt. Lake Park highway. In each case when they fail to accept the amount the SRC has deposited with the clerk of Circuit Court as a fair amount for the properties, the case goes before a Board of Property Review. This consists of three persons, C. C. Nathan, Grantsville, an attorney; F. R. Corliss, surveying engineer, Deer Park and Grover; C. Stemple, Oakland, a disinterested party, all appointed less than a year ago by the court when a new procedure in condemnation cases was inaugurated.

Mineral Petit Jurors Named

KEYSER—Petit jurors for the October term of Mineral County Circuit Court will report for duty Monday.

Jurors from New Creek District include Frank Bartlett, Britton Day, William McDonald, John L. Rogers, Andrew S. Murray, John F. Somerville Jr., Maxine Barger, Bruce Robinson, John P. MacLeod and Dewey W. Berror.

Piedmont District—William B. Smith, O. D. Collett, Harry Harshbarger, Louise Gleason, Kent Wilson, Robert L. Chaney, Frank F. Davis, Garland Chesire and Robert D. Tramm.

Frankfort District—Robert Linn, Ray Wagner, Rose Lockard, James Phillips, Betty Barnes, Raymond C. Adams, Ray Thomas, Bernard Douthitt, Thomas Stallings, George Ott, Leonard Evans, Brooks Welch and Clarence Bosley.

Cabin Run District—Claude A. Ryan, Kenneth B. Rexrode and Martha Grove; Elk Garden District—Cora S. Davis, Marian N. Jenkins, Faye L. Daugherty, Bernice H. Bowley, Rosalie V. Stullenbarger, Loretta Ward, Charles Green and Samuel E. Jones.

Westernport Water Meter Ordinance Given Approval

WESTERNPORT—Mayor Okey E. Michael and Council last night unanimously approved Ordinance 14 which authorizes the installation of town water meters and the fixing of rates for service.

The second and final reading of the ordinance was given by Commissioner Alvin Pence at the regular council session. Pence was given authority to employ a plumber to install a water meter in Bruce High School on Philips Avenue, the first for use inside the corporation. However, a meter has been installed for water being furnished the Horse Rock Hill development of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company outside the town limits.

Pence reported that work on repairing the town's reservoir, adjacent to the filtration plant, is progressing satisfactorily. The work is expected to be completed next week. Mayor Michael reported the receipt of $1,889.43 from the State Road Commission. Of this amount, $1,847.27 was the town's share from the state's gasoline tax and $42.16 from vehicle revenue.

W. M. Riley and Lorenzo Riggelman, officials of Christ Memorial Baptist Church, asked the town to give 45 feet of 15-inch sewer pipe for draining water from church property on Roosevelt Street.

The town will loan them the material with the provision that they sign an agreement should the water run on other person's property that the church would be responsible for any damages claimed. They agreed to do this.

An adjustment in the bill of Richard Grove, outside the corporation for putting in a water tap and pipe for $87.46, was reduced to $55.46. Mayor Michael recommended that a flag pole and flag be placed at the town's filtration plant.

Weekly receipts for the parking meters amounted to $75.70.

Keyser 'Citizen Of Year' Award Offered By Clubs

KEYSER—The Keyser Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with the Lions, Retarians and Soroptimists, again is sponsoring the search for Keyser's "Citizen of the Year."

In order to get reaction from the general public, printed ballots will be placed at the National Bank of Keyser, Farmers and Merchants Bank, Keyser city of Keyser, Potomac Light and Power Company quarters and the office of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company.

Those making nominations are requested to cite their nominees' community activities. Ballots will be collected by the president of the Keyser Kiwanis Club. Nominations will close at noon November 20.

The name of the citizen selected will be kept secret until a joint meeting of the interested clubs.

Selected as citizens of the year in the past three years were: John C. Freeland, former mayor of Keyser; George Davis, head of the First National Bank and David G. Nuzum, member of the Potomac State College faculty.

Enrollment High

Potomac State College now has the second highest enrollment in the college's history as the official close of registration reveals a total of 615 students.

According to the office of Dean K. S. McKee, the freshman class totals 365-305 men and 60 women. The sophomore class with 204 includes 157 men and 47 women.

Special students, a group consisting of those carrying less than a full schedule of work, number 46. Of these 16 are men and 30 are women.

Recent additions to the ranks of the Singers by the total membership of the choral group to 40, according to announcement by Leonard G. Withers, director.

Additions include Jean Heble, Sharon Harman, Daisy Rinker, Jean Gula, Camille Boyce, Ruth Lou Williams, Regina Stenle, Charles Coe, William Mankins, Eldon Volo, Eugene White, Dean Kenney and Arnold Wayne.

Street Improved

Another local street is being improved with a blacktop surface treatment. Employees of the Keyser Street Department are putting the surface on Saint Cloud Street for its full length from Mineral to G.

Mayor Richard E. Romig said other streets would also be improved as money and materials became available. He declined to say, however, which streets were listed for resurfacing next.

Three area men were paroled Monday under unusual provisions after they entered pleas of guilty to grand larceny in Mineral County Circuit Court.

Block Party Scheduled

FROSTBURG—The Parent-Teacher Association of Hill Street School will hold its annual Halloween "block party" tomorrow from 7 to 9 p. m. at the school.

The program will include a rummage sale, rides, games, white elephant table, fish pond, bake sale, refreshment booth and homemade candy.

Co-chairmen are Mrs. John Stevenson and Mrs. Ralph Lay. They will be assisted by Mesdames George Buckalew, James McGregor, Vernon Poole, Lewis Miller, O'Brien Chancy, Joslin and others they might have secured in having the scraper returned, and within 30 days go to the victims and apologize personally and promise not to steal from them again.

Receive Shots

Members of the Keyser Post Office force and three postmasters from nearby communities received inoculations against Asian flu today, Postmaster Harry O. Rogers said.

The serum, supplied by the government, was administered at the post office by a local physician. Some 30 local post offices at a Mass employees, including rural mail carriers, were given shots. In addition, postmasters from Burlington, Antioch and Elk Garden came here for the inoculations.

The first group of local Baltimore and Ohio Railroad employees received their Asian flu shots Tuesday. The B&O is supplying the serum which is being administered by a company physician.

Renew Marriage Vows

FROSTBURG—In celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. George C. McKenzie of Flintstone renewed their marriage vows at a Mass in St. Michael's Catholic Church here. Rev. Regis F. Larkin was celebrant. Antioch and Elk Garden came here for the inoculations.

Open house will be held Sunday from 2 to 4:30 p. m. for friends and relatives at their home on Baltimore Pike.

To File Forms

PETERSBURG—Wilson H. Smith, commander of Grant Post 78, American Legion, reports that representatives will be present at the Court House on Friday afternoon, November 1, at 4 p. m., and Saturday, November 2, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. for the purpose of furnishing eligible veterans with application blanks for payment of the Korean bonus claim.

Smith emphasizes that it is of importance that each veteran bring with him a copy of DD Form 214 as these forms are necessary before application blanks can be completed.

It is believed that there are about 220 eligible veterans in Grant County. This number includes those who are presently in the service and survivors of deceased veterans. There are approximately 40 still in the Armed Forces.

The processing of applications for bonus will be time consuming, and Smith states that eligible veterans should not expect to receive payment in time for Christmas.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Editor's Note: Speaking from experience, correspondent says you don't have to drink to be liked.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In answer to the wife who asks if social drinking is risky, possibly leading to addiction, your comments of September 23rd suggest that you are reluctant to tell people to abstain entirely from alcoholic beverages. Why?

Alcohol cannot benefit one physically. If one is weak emotionally, he will not gain strength of character by drinking. And one must be weak indeed if he (she) drinks simply to follow the crowd. The urge to be of the same pattern is understandable in a 15-year-old, but not appropriate to an adult.

If one drinks because of fear of losing friendship or association otherwise desirable, there is no real basis for such fear. I can testify to that from personal experience.

From 1917, when I entered the Army at age 26, I have refrained from drinking—originally because general orders forbade it.

He's Arrier Of His Intake

Since discharge in 1919 I have been active in my profession, which requires dealing with persons from all strata of society. Also I have been active in several fraternal organizations—at least two of which, I regret, have earned reputations for drinking. And I have attended innumerable conventions, parties, etc., where the men, and in recent years the women, I am sorry to say, drank some getting drunk.

Nevertheless, I have never embarrassed or snubbed or insulted because of my invariable "No thanks; I don't use it," to all invitations to drink. There's no need to make any excuse or speech about it. A person has a right that must be recognized, to decide what he will put into his stomach and what he will keep out—he it alcohol, shrimp, asparagus or porthouse steak.

Julius La Rosa Establishes Himself As Actor

By JACK O'BRIAN.

NEW YORK (INS)—Kraft Theatre's "Man In A Trance" last night was an absorbing play, in which Julius La Rosa added a fine new facet to his career.

He played a fairly fanciful role with admirable intelligence and simplicity, with rare restraint in a sustained performance worthy of actors of greater experience and reputation.

The story concerned a young singer with a mental block, one all-a-jitter psychically after one hit recording, who is talked into falling for an amateur hypnotist's help to "cure" him, in his case, of "mike fright."

The hypnotist, played with a fine touch of wise-guy evil by Farley Granger, tries through the same hypnotism to urge the lad toward murder, but the eulitrate, or culturate, Svengali fails and the happy ending sends the singer to a psychiatrist who uses hypnosis of a medically and psychically approved sort.

The play was smartly designed, and the dialogue intelligent and believable, but two major points blunted its climax:

It's a fact known far beyond the circle of psychiatry that it is impossible to coax a human to perform anything through hypnosis which would violate his otherwise normal moments of serious decision.

Also using the device of an honest-to-id psychiatrist to explain before the plot took shape and again in a lengthy near-apology at the finish, suggested clinical explanations might be needed to bolster a viewer's belief.

Instead, they pinpointed shortcomings which otherwise might have been considered marginal notes bearing the benefit of dramatic license.

Therefore, the apologies watered down the ending to the show's total disadvantage.

But La Rosa caused none of the apologies; he performed warmly and ably, with Granger as the small-time power-hungry mind-manipulator.

Nehemiah Persoff was caustic and believable as his older, naggingly skeptic brother; Alexander Scourby was dignified and solid as the psychiatrist; and Patricia Smith served the story warmly and well as the gently sympathetic romantic interest.

Will Lorin wrote "Man In A Trance," and his honors today dangle on his very good dialogue, not for a precisely important plot nor ingenious climax.

The big changer shifts "The Big Record" producer's job from 1936.

Lee Cooley to Jack Philbin, Jackie Gleason's former TV headman.

Polly Bergen's next guest will be Don Ameche.

The Nov. 6 Kraft Theatre play is about murder among TV's isolation booths.

The Communist Party was declared illegal in Argentina in 1936.

Six ancient states now included in modern Yugoslavia are Serbia, Croatia, Slovenia, Montenegro, Macedonia and Bosnia-Herzegovina.

We, Too, Respect Right To Choose

DEAR R. J. In effect you are asking why I don't preach against the use of alcoholic beverages, when the subject of drinking is introduced. Well, I think that you yourself have supplied the sensible answer, in your concluding statement, to wit:

"A person has a right that must be recognized, to decide what he will put into his stomach and what he will keep out—he it alcohol, shrimp, asparagus or porthouse steak."

CASE-TerraTrac "320" angledozer
costs less to own - less to operate

Here's a proven producer with a low, low price tag! Designed and built by Case for heavy-duty industrial service, this powerful 42 HP angledozer, with 148 cu. in. high-torque engine, gives you far more work capacity, plus higher ground clearance than any converted farm tractor. Rugged 74" box section blade with positively improved differential steering, lets you turn and maneuver bigger loads easier - and still maintain driving power on both tracks. Optional rear-mounted winch, backhoe or side-boom for extra utility. Check with us today.

Pre-Legislative Conference Set By University

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 23 (AP)—The addition of two state department heads completes a list of consultants for the pre-legislative conference scheduled Nov. 15-16 at White Sulphur Springs.

President Irvin Stewart of West Virginia University, making the announcement for co-sponsors WVU and the Ford Foundation, said today that State School Supt. R. Virgil Rohrbough and Road Commissioner Patrick C. Graney will participate in the two-day program.

The pre-legislative conference is financed by a $23,000 grant through the Ford Foundation's educational program. The conference is designed to promote better understanding between legislators and citizens.

Phone Company States Rate Hike Not Enough

BALTIMORE (AP)—Hearing of a proposed $6,855,000 annual rate increase, which the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. says is already "too little too late," has been recessed temporarily.

The company's detailed position on the Aug. 15 rate request was laid before the Public Service Commission in printed form yesterday. There was little testimony but a statement was read.

Wilfred T. McQuaid, the people's counsel to the PSC, cross-examined some C&P witnesses briefly, then told the commission he was not prepared to continue.

McQuaid is to notify the PSC Monday as to when he and others protesting the increase will be ready to go on.

The increase would add about 90 cents a month to the average Maryland telephone bill. At the same time, subscribers would be able to call a larger number of exchanges without toll charges, C&P said.

McQuaid said earlier, when filing his protest, that the proposed rate hike would give C&P 20 million dollars a year in additional gross revenue over a 10-year period.

The company statement said: "We urgently needed immediate rate relief when we filed last August. What we asked for then is already too little and too late."

And C&P Vice President Griffin Morrell said the utility's future financial needs would depend upon the outcome of wage negotiations now under way with one of its unions.

The company statement read by C&P Attorney John F. Preston Jr. said there are four basic causes of the company's earnings problem:

1. "Inflated costs, of which wages are the principal component."
2. "Customer demands for expansion and improvement."
3. "A lag between company requests for increases and the granting of them by the Public Service Commission."
4. "Difficulty in borrowing money for improvements because the C&P rate of return is low.

When McQuaid asked if the wider-range service proposed would benefit some telephone users at the expense of the majority, Morrell replied by saying: "Actually, the cost of this wider-range calling is a very small portion of the total increase."

McQuaid said at one point that the 6 1/2 per cent rate of return provided by the current proposal would be the greatest granted a major Maryland utility since the 1920s.

People's Counsel noted that Hancock subscribers who now call 751 telephones without additional charge would be able to call 25,261 more in Taggartown under the proposal, but the flat rate would increase from $4.30 to $6.40 a month.

F.W. Carey, C&P general commercial manager, acknowledged these facts.

"I might add," he said, "that you have singled out the largest single increase in this rate class. I might also add that we have had a very favorable reception to the plan from the people of Hancock."

Employees Shown Appliance Preview

Five Potomac Edison Company employees, W. F. Grim, sales supervisor, and G. E. Allen, R. A. Bishop, E. E. Martz and D. L. Beck, salesmen, spent Monday and Tuesday in Dayton, Ohio, where they attended a preview of the 1958 Frigidaire products.

The PE employees were award winners in a sales contest last summer and were given the trip to Dayton for their accomplishments during the contest.

B'nai Brith To See Israeli Embassy Film

The Western Maryland B'nai Brith will meet today at 8 p. m. in the vestry room of Beth Jacob Synagogue. Harry Knuffman will preside and the speaker will be Richard Winer.

Featured will be a film, "Israel in 1957—Nine Years of Independence," supplied by the Israeli Embassy in Washington. Refreshments will be served following the program.

Car Fatalities Have Background Of Drink

GREELEY, Colo., (INS)—A meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was told that nearly 50 per cent of all fatal highway accidents in America involve drinking drivers. Insurance man William N. Plymoot of Des Moines said tests in Montana and Delaware showed the presence of alcohol in about half of traffic fatalities.

To Attend Conference

Braxton Godbey, who is associated with the Barnes-Barnard-Gear Insurance Agency, Clark-Keating Building, is leaving shortly for Hartford, Conn., where he will attend a two weeks' session at the Hartford Fire Insurance Company's Training Center.

Powerful Lathes

Big industrial lathes will take pieces 100 feet long and the chuck will carry a weight of 100 tons in its jaws, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

W. Va. Examines Plans For New Route 21 Work

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Road Commissioner Patrick C. Graney indicated today that West Virginia will not start from scratch in completing plans for an interstate highway segment between Charleston and Parkersburg.

Graney said state road engineers are re-examining preliminary reports on U.S. 21 between the two cities, which were made in connection with a now defunct program to extend the West Virginia Turnpike.

The J. E. Greiner Co. of Baltimore, Md., made the preliminary report in 1956 at the direction of the Legislature. Specifications for the road included a divided highway with two 24-foot pavements over 73.7 miles between nearby Reed and South Parkersburg. The company estimated a cost of 115 million dollars.

The public library system of New York city has 25 million books.

Math Genius Is Typist

FT. LEE, Va. (AP)—Pvt. Ernest Shult says he's a qualified typist and that accounts for his Army assignment here.

He admits, though, he "would rather be working in my own field."

That, according to a former associate of the soldier, is not in the Army.

Prof. Carl C. Lindgren, internationally known geneticist and biological research director at Southern Illinois University, brought Shult into the news.

The professor described Shult as a mathematical genius and charged the Army was allowing "top talent to wither on the vine."

Shult, assigned as a clerk-typist in the headquarters of the Quartermaster School here, formerly was Lindgren's chief mathematical assistant.

Legion To Show Films To Children
